A case of cutaneous melanoma on the palm that arose in the background of generalized hypopigmented macules associated with mycosis fungoidea is reported. The clinicopathologic features suggested that the macules represent an early stage of disease. While cutaneous melanomas occurring in the context of mycosis fungoidea are infrequent, this association deserves careful analysis of the skin because of the elevated incidence of melanoma in this patient population.Jewelry store increases values by £2m and streamlines processes: A jewellery shop in Llanfyllin has benefited from a software upgrade which has boosted staff productivity, increased the store's online revenue, raised the value of stock and saved them money. The Bro Morgan shop in the Welsh town of Llanfyllin was set up 30 years ago and counts stars like Robert Hardy and Mark Owen among its clients. The store has a turnover of £1.5m and employs 14 people. 'It was a messy process' Michael Wales, who owns the store, managed the business in-house from his garage using a computer and a printer. The process of managing the store was "messy," he said. "I had to look after the stock and after hours in the old days. But now we use a software system, which makes our life easy and efficient." The upgraded system includes an inventory solution, which links store management to the Bro Morgan website, managing the stock and calculating sales. "This made it easy to do everything," he said. "We do our own book keeping and use the internet to sell. We are no longer reliant on the post office for stock delivery." It has given the store the opportunity to grow and the turnover of £2m for the year ending last March. "We made a £90,000 profit for the year," he added. The largest increase in turnover came in the last six months, he added. "We are happy with our profits,
