want to read manuals, you can visit the official manuals' sites. Q: React - Rendering component multiple times I am new to React and am trying to learn React. I have some code where I create a component called 'GenerateLink'. It's actually a react router component with some logic on the component. This component creates an anchor tag and a div containing the title of a route and then loads that route using `history.push()`. It then makes an API request to get the name of that route and caches that data. The problem that I am experiencing is that whenever I create multiple of these GenerateLink components, the first component seems to be rendered multiple times. From console logs: Rendering Component with route id: 1 Rendering Component with route id: 2 Rendering Component with route id: 3 Rendering Component with route id: 4 Rendering Component with route id: 5 [React] [HMR] waiting for update signal from WDS, starting...
