The teenager who opened fire at a Florida high school had been in contact with a school social worker who had tried to warn other staff about his expressed desire to “shoot up the school”. On Monday, Broward County sheriff Scott Israel revealed details of the social worker’s intervention with Nikolas Cruz, 17, during the school year and described how Cruz’s mother died in a tragic incident earlier in the day. “Nikolas Cruz was an individual who had a lot of issues and he was definitely dangerous as it relates to school safety,” Israel said. The sheriff said Cruz had some inappropriate communication with a social worker. Cruz’s mother, Lynda Cruz, died at the scene of a fire on Monday. She was the spouse of a former neighbour who was found shot dead at the scene. Cruz told the sheriff’s office that she was at home and heard the gunshot. Alex Hider in Tampa (@alexhider) School principal says that the shooter has a social worker on campus.

incident on Saturday. A yearbook depicting Cruz with a rifle drawn on it was found in the suspect's vehicle and another photo of him holding a rifle was found in his home. Cruz also has a YouTube channel, called The Mind of Jihad, that includes a number of online posts, mostly about religion. The channel's description said it was dedicated to sharing "stories of Muslims making positive contributions to humanity". The statement from the Marjory Stoneman Douglas school district follows a warning sent to teachers by the Broward sheriff's department on Tuesday, telling them to be on the lookout for students who might be "dangerous" and to report any suspicious people or activity to authorities. "We know this is a difficult and painful time for everyone," the school district said. "However, our families, staff and students should know that Broward county law enforcement officers are working around the clock to ensure the safety of everyone in our community." The sheriff said that the social worker, whom he over the [protesters] like they were a mob” because the president was right to criticize NFL players who “won’t stand up for the national anthem.” “He did the same thing when the ‘Twilight’ actors wouldn’t stand up,” said Huckabee, referring to a group of teenage actors who refused to stand for the national anthem at a premiere for the vampire film “The Twilight Saga: Breaking Dawn – Part 1.” “They accused [President] Obama of being a racist,” Huckabee added. “The players get that somehow there’s something that’s going on.” Huckabee said that protesters “may not like the president, but they also have an obligation to protest in a way that is designed to bring attention to his actions.” “We need to be a little more responsible in how we protest,” Huckabee argued. “And that’s why I don’t believe there needs to be any change in the laws. You protest. You have your right to protest. Just don’t be dangerous or disruptive.” In the run-up to President Trump’s appearance at a rally in Huntsville, Alabama, on Tuesday, NFL owners voted to fine players who take a knee during the national anthem. Trump ripped the NFL Tuesday night, saying that most of the league’s players are “disrespectful to our country” and making clear that he doesn’t approve of players kneeling during the national anthem. "Wouldn't you love to see one of these NFL owners, when somebody disrespects our flag, to say 'get that son of a b---- off the field right now. Out,'" Trump said. "That'd be a thing, right? They'd put him off the field, right? Or that son of a b----. They'd be fired."
