object tracking algorithms, Centertracker Deluxe tracks the selected object in multiple ways. The program uses the luminosity changes of the selected object to trace it and centers it in the middle of the screen. You can choose a luminosity value that suits your needs and sets this value in the preferences menu. You can also use the color changes of the object to trace it. This mode can be a bit better for color objects than luminosity mode, and it can track a color object not only on the screen but also in your image folder. Trace a selected object in a video and center it in the middle of the screen along the whole video. The tracking is done using a template image. This mode can be useful if you need to track an object that always appears in the same position in the video. Trace a selected object in a video and center it in the middle of the screen along the whole video. The tracking is done using contour image. This mode is a general purpose mode that can track several objects in a video at the same time. Centertracker Deluxe Preference Menu: You can specify the object tracking mode with the following values: brightness, color, template and contour. The mode can be set to the default. You can also change the brightness value that suits your needs and sets this value in the preferences menu. With the help of the preferences menu, you can also control the size of the selected object to be traced and the background color of the image. There are other optional preferences you can set to customize the behavior of the software. You can specify the brightness value that suits your needs and sets this value in the preferences menu.
